

Proposed Pre-Conference Workshop on Psychology Education and Teaching (PET) Social Psychology

Organizer: Prof. Urmi N. Biswas, Professor

Department of Psychology
The MS University of Baroda,
Vadodara, Gujarat, 390002.
India.

AS A PART OF PREC-CONFERENCE WORKSHOPS (21st Dec 2017, 3pm to 5pm) IN
NAOP CONVENTION AT IIT KHARAGPUR (Dec 22nd-24th, 2017)

Teaching and research in Social Psychology should have the roots in the life and breathe of socio-cultural milieu of the nation. The content should generate insight in the students to address and solve the socio-cultural issues of the society they live in and the teaching methods should aspire to connect and encapacitate them to assess and understand the socio-cultural realities. Considering that Indian Society is in transition and the taxonomy of socio-cultural values and interpersonal relationships are being redefined and reinterpreted, the workshop is an attempt to consolidate the ideas and insights regarding effective teaching and research in Social Psychology in India and take it further to redefine the coverage and territory of the sub-field.

The PET workshop was conceptualized and initiated during NAOP, 2016 and the proposed one is a continued effort to shape the desired outcomes. We propose to have a workshop for 2 hours (3.00p.m. to 5.00 p.m.) on 21st December to contemplate, discuss and consolidate insights regarding teaching and research in social psychology

Outcome We propose to produce an article and guidelines for teaching and research of social psychology in India after getting the ideas approved by the active and engaged social psychology teachers all over the country.

Participants: We expect 6 to 10 participants for the workshop.

Tentatively Confirmed Participants:

Prof. Janak Pande, Prof. Purnima Singh, Prof Sadhana Natu, Prof. Jayanti Basu, Prof. Urmi N. Biswas, Dr. Tushar Singh